

Tech Electronics Provides Chateau Girardeau with a Wi-Fi Solution for Today's Tech Savvy Residents

Company:

Chateau Girardeau

Solution:

Wireless Network

Overview:

Recognizing the changing landscape of long-term care facilities Chateau Girardeau partnered with Tech Electronics to implement technology that best fit their resident's needs.

As residents become more tech savvy, Chateau Girardeau recognized the need to offer more enhanced technology driven amenities. In order to accommodate these changing expectations the campus was in need of a more advanced wireless network that allowed for a secure network and seamless connectivity.

Solution

For over 15 years Tech Electronics has been a trusted technology solutions provider for Chateau Girardeau. Tech Electronics optimized coverage so that residents and staff are now able to access high-speed Wi-Fi anywhere on campus.

After partnering with Tech Electronics, Chateau Girardeau is now equipped with a state-of-the-art wireless network:

- Aruba Wireless Network – Aruba wireless access points deliver superb Wi-Fi performance and were deployed as a controller-managed wireless network. The Aruba wireless access points were used to optimize coverage for mobility.
- SonicWall NSA Series Firewall – The NSA series firewall is a simple, reliable and effective NGFW including secure remote access, site-to-site VPN and WAN failover/loading balancing.
- Brocade ICX Series Switches – The Brocade ICX series offers premier spend and reliability in a flexible scale-out design. It allows the customer to start small and add capacity as needed.

Feedback

“Chateau Girardeau has established great partnership with Tech Electronics over the years. We have always had positive experiences with the technology and solutions Tech has provided us with in the past. Therefore, we felt confident that they would deliver the best Wi-Fi solution that fit the needs of our staff and our residents. Not only does Tech deliver the quality products and solutions, the company has always provided our organization with outstanding, responsive customer service.”
